

ESSENTIALS OF QUALITATIVE RESEARCH COURSE SERIES

PHD CURRICULUM

Four learning phases are included in the CQ shared curriculum. Students are encouraged to take courses across at least three phases for a balanced development of theoretical depth and practical skills.

Students who take three courses can apply to the CQ Certificate of Advanced Methodological Training - <http://www.ccqhr.utoronto.ca/education/about-course-series/certificate/>

Recommended preparatory courses for CQ PhD curriculum

Social Theory

CHL 5101 Social Theory and Health

CHL 5128 Intersectionality, Inequity, and Public Health

NUR 1085 Topics in Critical Perspectives in Health and Health Care

	Theoretical Foundation of Method	Data Generation	Data Analysis	Thesis Completion & Professional Development
Focused	CHL 5131 Theoretical Foundations of Qualitative Health Research		★ CHL 5115 Qualitative Analysis and Interpretation	* CHL 5122 Advanced Qualitative Research: Framing, Writing, and Beyond
	* SWK 4512 Research Knowledge for Social Justice
		NUR 1025 Doing Qualitative Research: Design and Data Collection
		* EXS 5540 Narrative Methods in Health Research
		* SOC 6317 Qualitative Research Methods II: Qualitative Interviewing
		* SWK 6007 Advanced Qualitative Research Methods in SW: Critical Discourse and Narrative Approaches for Interpretive Policy Analysis
		* CHL 5134 Institutional Ethnography
Broad		EXS 5536 Qualitative Inquiry in Sport and Physical Activity
		JRP 1000 Theory and Method of Qualitative Health Research
		SWK 6307 Designing and Implementing Qualitative Social Work Research

* Offered Bi-Annually

 Offered Annually as 6-week course

★ Compulsory course for CQ certificate